

Dr. Funderburk has been associated with Southeastern Retina Associates for 25 years. He joined SERA in 1984, just after he finished a postgraduate fellowship in retina and vitreous surgery at the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

He earned an undergraduate degree in biology from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville in 1975 and a medical degree from the UT College of Medicine, Memphis in 1979.

He is well acquainted with the Chattanooga area. After serving a University of Tennessee College of Medicine internship in Chattanooga, he served as chief resident in the Department of Ophthalmology.

As senior partner in the Chattanooga Area Office, Dr. Funderburk recently oversaw the move into new headquarters on Jarnigan Road and at the same time the transition to a paperless patient information system that has refined the quality of care SERA patients receive.

Dr. Funderburk is an assistant professor at the UT College of Medicine, Chattanooga unit.
